Personal Profile

As a graduate of a funded Software Development Training course with Just IT Training, I have gained a solid understanding of the core principles of Web and Software Development. Through this intensive bootcamp, I have developed skills in JavaScript, Python and Data, allowing me to contribute effectively to a range of projects. I am particularly skilled in creating intuitive, user-friendly designs that prioritize functionality and performance.

As a recent Web Developer intern, I have had the opportunity to apply my knowledge in real-world scenarios, contribute to multiple projects, and enhance my technical skills, collaborating with teams, and solving real-world problems while learning best practices in web development.

I am passionate about continuous learning and actively practice on platforms like Codecademy to keep my skills sharp. My professional interests lie in exploring emerging technologies and enhancing my problem-solving abilities to contribute to impactful projects. As a dedicated and adaptable developer, I am eager to take on new challenges and collaborate with teams to create innovative solutions.

IT Skills

Software Development Skills: JavaScript, Python, Drupal, PHP, Linux and MySQL

Web Technology: HTML5, CSS3 & JavaScript

Core Programming Languages: JavaScript and Python

Framework: React, TypeScript

Design tools: Figma

Projects:

- Weather app that tells you the current forecast information in the country you choose to type in. In this project I've been using HTML, CSS3, API and the challenge I came across was how to work with API. It was an enjoyable journey, and I'm happy about my achievement. This project can be accessed here: <https://poetic-madeleine-173731.netlify.app>
- Functional magic 8 ball – fortune teller, that spins and it gives a different answer every time you click on the ball. I've created it with HTML, CSS3 and JavaScript and I experienced more how to work with animations and shadows in a more efficient way. This project can be accessed here: <https://adrianaa911.github.io/FortuneTeller/>
- Fitness website that inspires people to start their fitness journey. The website gives multiple reasons to join such as the programs that fit you the most, the classes you can join, the supporting and motivational team. I've created this project using HTML and CSS. I experienced more how to best place the content and make it attractive. This project can be accessed here: <https://adrianaa911.github.io/FitnessFit/>
